Exercise (Instructions): Alerting Users

Objectives and Outcomes

In this short exercise we will examine the use of badges as a way of alerting users. At the end of this exercise, you will be able to:

Adding Badges

- We will continue to edit the index.html file. In this file, we will add a badge HOT next to the name of the dish Uthappizza in the first content row. To do this, add the following code inside the <h2> containing the name of the dish:

```
1   HOT
```

- Next we will add a badge as a badge-pill right next to the earlier tag in the web page. Add the following code to the <h2> tag:

```
1   $4.99
```

- Remember to commit the changes to the Git repository with message "Alerting Users".
